WELCOME

Roy Cooper, Managing Director of Professional Security Magazine, welcomes you to Security TWENTY 17 Ireland here at the Red Cow Moran Hotel in Dublin. We have planned the day so that you can enjoy some excellent presentations from key industry people that are involved with the changing world in which we live. Whatever your subject of expertise, there should be something in the presentations for you to learn and leave feeling better informed. I would like to thank firstly exhibitors who have made the day possible with their contributions, and a special thanks to our sponsors Anixter, Hanwha Techwin, Hikvision, IFSEC International, Seagate, CSL Dualcom and Jacksons Fencing. Please take the time to visit their stands as they too have new innovations you may not have seen before. I also would especially like to thank our key note speakers for taking the time out of their busy days to come and share their knowledge with you, but more to the point I would like to thank you for coming along. I hope you have a great day and look forward to welcoming you to our next event.

NOMINATED CHARITY

As you may know, we aim to raise funds for local charities at each of our events and are especially keen to support charities which are close to the hearts of our exhibitors and delegates.

At Security TWENTY 17 Ireland we are raising funds for LauraLynn which is Ireland's only Children's Hospice caring for children with life limiting conditions. This charity has been nominated by Sarah O'Donnell of the Irish Security Industry Association.

SPEAKERS

Sarah O'Donnell - Irish Security Industry Association

Sarah has 19 years of experience working in various marketing and business development roles, mainly within the services sectors. As part of her current role with the Irish Security Industry Association (ISIA) as Communications Director, she works with their members to increase awareness of the ISIA, drive membership value and growth. She is responsible for running all of the day to day operations of the association which has eight divisions of membership.

The ISIA is the only association in Ireland that represents the full spectrum of security companies. We provide a voice for the security industry, allowing our members to influence the area of the security industry that they are involved in and to drive change and continuous improvement collectively as a sector.

Andrew McQuillan - Crowd Management Consultant

Andrew McQuillan has been involved in dealing with the security threat of drones for nearly 5 years. He initially became involved due to his role protecting Film and Television productions from the threats posed by obsessed fans and paparazzi drones. Andrew is the Director of Crowded Space Drones and is a licenced commercial drone pilot in various countries around the world.

Crowded Space Drones undertake flying drones for security and safety operations as well as helping clients to stop drones flying near their buildings, property or people. Their work also involved voluntary aerial support for Search and Rescue in the UK and work with emergency services for responding to major incidents.
