WELCOME

Roy Cooper, Managing Director of Professional Security Magazine, welcomes you to Security TWENTY 19 Belfast here at the Europa Hotel in Belfast. We have planned the day so that you can enjoy some excellent presentations from key industry people that are involved with the changing world in which we live. Whatever your subject of expertise, there should be something in the presentations for you to learn and leave feeling better informed. I would like to thank firstly exhibitors who have made the day possible with their contributions, and a special thanks to our sponsors IFSEC International, Hikvision, Seagate, CSL Dualcom, Axis Communications and Security Dynamics. Please take the time to visit their stands as they too have new innovations you may not have seen before. I also would especially like to thank our key note speakers for taking the time out of their busy days to come and share their knowledge with you, but more to the point I would like to thank you for coming along. I hope you have a great day and look forward to welcoming you to our next event.

SPEAKERS

Aidan Anderson - Association of Security Consultants

Kidnappings, robberies and the effects of terrorism, were not the only issues dealt with by Aidan Anderson during his time as security manager within Danske Bank, but they brought about a high degree of focus into daily operations. In a career that has encompassed the design of large and complex CCTV and access control systems, Aidan moved from Westinghouse, to Northern Bank, as its Security Adviser. Over an 18 year period in the Bank, Aidan took security from a property related function into what Aidan sees as its natural home, Risk, allowing it to be recognised and governed within that regime. Establishing RedLeaf Consultancy in 2013, Aidan brings a high degree of expertise to clients, allowing them to control security, as one of many risks, within an effective governance regime.

Aidan's professionalism is recognised by being a Chartered Security Professional and a member of both the Security Institute and Association of Security Consultants.

Michael White - G4S Secure Solutions

With twenty years industry experience and a background in operational management that includes critical national infrastructure sites, blue chip city clients and diplomatic clients across a range of industry sectors Mike moved into compliance and risk management five years ago initially as a consultant and latterly with G4S. His experience includes working in the Middle East and he regularly chairs and presents at conferences both in the UK and in Europe.

In addition to his G4S role Mike was a volunteer Director at the Security Institute, a former Chairman of IPSA and a member of The Court of Assistants within The Worshipful Company of Security Professionals. He currently also chairs the working group at the British Standards Institute reviewing BS 7499, is a member of the group reviewing BS 7858 and is working with the Security Industry Authority as a member of the team reviewing the licence linked training requirements for the security industry. His spare time is taken up with his allotment and as a frustrated Southampton FC supporter and an equally frustrated supporter of the French national rugby team.

SPEAKERS

Gemma Sellar - Retailers Against Crime

Gemma joined Retailers Against Crime in January 2004. Over the years she assisted Maxine in developing RAC throughout Scotland and Northern Ireland. Gemma managed Scotland for 5 years, growing the membership and establishing excellent working relationships with Police, retailers and key partners to detect and deter crime. Gemma has an extensive knowledge of crime prevention, suspects impacting throughout RAC regions and the implications retail crime has on the wider community. She now manages Northern Ireland and North West England and has been key in maintaining and developing strong working relationships with members, the PSNI and Greater Manchester Police.

Mike Gillespie - Advent IM

Mike is an experienced, senior information security and data protection practitioner of many years' standing. He is well versed in the threat to organisational information assets. Having been a member of the CSCIS Global Cyber Security Select Committee for some time, he is now the Vice President of C3i Group on cyber security, cybercrime and cyber intelligence. He assists the organisation in continuing to promote thought leadership and awareness to a global audience on the current threats to organisational information assets emanating from cyberspace. Mike serves as a cyber spokesperson for the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management (IIRSM) and also as the Cyber Security lead adviser for the UK Government's Surveillance Camera Commissioner.

Mike is recently retired from the board of the Security Institute where he served as Director for Cyber Strategy & Research for several years. As a subject matter expert Mike is called upon regularly to speak at events and contribute editorial, including for the BBC and The Sunday Times as well as regular cyber and physical security and technology industry media. He is also part of the editorial board for Professional Security Magazine, a regular speaker at key events such as Security & Policing, IFSEC, SCTX and International Security Expo.

SPEAKERS

Ian Fiddis - Northern Ireland Fire & Security Federation

Ian has been employed in the Fire and Security Industry since 1986 (33 years). He began his career as an apprentice TV and Video Engineer before moving to the Fire and Security Industry in the wake of redundancy aged 19, to become an improver engineer in small Belfast based Fire and Security company which specialised in bespoke solutions. At the age of 26, having become the Senior Engineer, Ian accepted an offer to join Chubb Northern Ireland as a service engineer, before becoming Service Supervisor and then Service Manager by the age of 33. Due to the unique structure of Chubb Northern Ireland, Ian, as part of his Service Management role, also managed the company's Quality and Compliance Systems. With this experience and a highlighted need within the Ireland region, Ian took on the role in 2005 of Group Quality Manager for the Island of Ireland with responsibility for Fire and Security, and Cash in Transit and Security Guarding.

In 2009 following the sale of the Security Guarding division, Ian accepted an expanded role within the group to become Group Quality and Safety Manager. During this time Ian was trained in the United Technology Corporation's, "Achieving Competitive Excellence" and became an Auditor, auditing group companies throughout Europe, and South Africa. In 2011 Ian moved to work full time for the region and was Project Manager for the restructure and amalgamation of Chubb Fire and Chubb Electronic Security into a single business unit. At the end of 2012 and in the wake of a parent company restructure which saw the headquarters in London move to mainland Europe, Ian accepted a redundancy package and left Chubb after 18 years.

After a very short break and a holiday, Ian commenced work as HSQE Manager with JD McGeown Ltd before expanding his role to become Group Performance Manager with dual responsibilities for JD McGeown and VIS Security Solutions.

At present as well as his role with his employer, Ian is Vice-Chair of the National Security Inspectorate, Northern Ireland Committee and sits on the NSI's UK Regional Technical Committee. He is also Chairman of the Northern Ireland Fire and Security Employers Federation.
